

Chocolate Covered Chocolate with Chocolate Chips

- A Are you going to the bake sale?
- B No, my mom doesn't like us eating that sugary stuff.
- A Too bad. I love dessert. My most favorite thing.
- B Not good for us, though.
- A Tastes great. Yummy, yummy in my tummy.
- B I know, but my mom says it gives us a sugar rush. Then we get tired later on and fizzle out.
- A I like chocolate best.
- B And my little brother's allergic to chocolate. So we never even have it at home.
- A Allergic to chocolate? I don't know what I'd do if I was allergic to chocolate. I'd have to move to Alaska or something.
- B It's not so bad. If you don't have it at home, you don't think about it. And then you don't miss it. And Alaska's supposed to be beautiful, by the way.
- A Not without chocolate, it's not.
- B I'm sure they've got great chocolate in the great state of Alaska.
- A Do you think they have great bake sales?
- B I wouldn't be at all surprised.
- A I'm going to our bake sale early. I want to be the first one there. So I can check out all the tables.

- B What's your favorite?
- A I told you. Anything with chocolate.
- B Oh, that's right.
- A Or even chocolate chips.
- B Okay. That makes sense.
- A Sometimes you can get a giant chocolate cookie ... with chocolate chips.
- B Sounds pretty ... chocolatey.
- A Maybe a chocolate muffin with chocolate chips.
- B I bet they have those too.
- A Or just a plain chocolate bar.
- B Sounds good.
- A Even better with chocolate chips.
- B Sounds like a festival of chocolate.
- A And maybe they can dip the whole thing in chocolate.
- B To give it a hard chocolate shell?
- A Yeah... then I can have chocolate covered chocolate with chocolate chips.
